1. Aims and objectives

Our Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) policy aims to ensure that our school fully implements national legislation and guidance regarding pupils with SEND.

Aims: The school will support and make provision for pupils with special educational needs and disabilities by creating a culture which accepts, values and celebrates each individual.

The school will ensure that:

- All pupils with SEND have access to all aspects of school life (including curriculum and extra curriculum activities) alongside pupils who do not have SEND.
- All pupils with SEND are nurtured, and supported to enable them to fulfil their aspirations and to be the best they can be and can make a successful transition into adulthood.
- All provision in place for pupils with SEND will be arranged in consultation with parents/carers and reviewed each year, or more often, when appropriate.

Objectives:

These aims will be achieved through ensuring the following objectives:

- Staff will promote equality, demonstrate mutual respect and an appreciation of diversity and difference through the curriculum; the PSHCE programme; other school activities; and their relationships with students, parents, colleagues, and members of the wider community; and to actively challenge barriers to inclusion such as discrimination, stereotyping, and indifference.
- Students' needs are identified early, followed by, assessment, provision (be in adaptive learning, one to one support, or group support), and continuous monitoring.
- All students with SEND are able to access the curriculum by providing adaptive learning opportunities, extra support or additional resources where appropriate in order to overcome barriers to learning.
- Pastoral care and support will be available for all students so that they may develop in all areas and build a strong sense of self-esteem.
- Staff will be able to fulfil their responsibilities by having appropriate and regular training.
- Students will be actively in the creation of the Pupil Profile.
- The school will work in partnership with parents/carers so that they can take an active role in their child's education.
- The school will work with outside agencies, when appropriate, to meet the needs of individual students.

2. Vision and values

Our school is committed to creating a positive learning environment which promotes a belief in what may be possible and a view of ability that is flexible, not fixed. This whole-school ethos reflects the value we place on diversity and respect accorded to all individuals. Support for a variety of needs is a collective whole-school responsibility – all teachers are teachers of students with individual needs.

- We are committed to making sure all our pupils are empowered and inspired and have the chance to thrive and igniting a sense of curiosity and spark.
- We are committed to supporting them to meet their full potential.
- We are focused on creating an inclusive environment, where provision is tailored to the needs and abilities of pupils, no matter how varied.

4. Inclusion and equal opportunities

At our school we strive to create an inclusive teaching environment that offers all pupils, no matter their needs and abilities, a broad, balanced and challenging curriculum. We are committed to offering all pupils the chance to thrive and fulfil their aspirations.

We will achieve this by making reasonable adjustments to teaching, the curriculum and the school environment to make sure that pupils with SEND are included in all aspects of school life.

5. Definitions

Disability is defined under the Equality Act 2010. A person has a disability if s/he "has a physical or mental impairment that has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on his or her ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities."

Special Educational Needs are defined in the Children and Families Act 2014:

A child or young person has special educational needs if he or she has a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she: (a) has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or (b) has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions

At Oxford High School we recognise that students of the highest academic ability can have SEND.

Students with SEND may fall into several categories.

The 4 areas of need

Pupils can have needs that cut across more than one area, and their needs may change over time.

Interventions will be selected that are appropriate for the pupil's particular area(s) of need, at the relevant time

- Communication and Interaction - Pupils with needs in this area have difficulty communicating with others. They may have difficulty understanding what is being said to them, have trouble expressing themselves, or do not understand or use the social rules of communication. Pupils who are on the autism spectrum often have needs that fall in this category.
- Cognition and Learning - Pupils with learning difficulties usually learn at a slower pace than their peers.
A wide range of needs are grouped in this area, including: Specific learning difficulties, which impact 1 or more specific aspects of learning, such as: dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia; Moderate learning difficulties – we currently have no pupils with MLD; Severe learning difficulties – we currently have no pupils with SLD; Profound and multiple learning difficulties, which is where pupils are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment.
- Social and Emotional Mental Health - Pupils may have: Mental health difficulties such as anxiety, depression or an eating disorder; Attention Deficit Hyperactive Disorder or attachment disorder.
- Sensory and/or Physical Impairments - A sensory impairment such as vision impairment, hearing impairment or multi-sensory impairment; a physical impairment.

They will be invited to participate in discussions and decisions about this support. They may be asked to provide information about the impact of SEN support outside school and any changes in the pupil's needs; given the opportunity to share their concerns and, with school staff, agree their aspirations for the pupil.

The school will take into account the views of the parent or carer in any decisions made about the pupil.

The pupil - The pupil's views will be taken into account in making decisions that affect them, whenever possible.

7. Our approach to SEND support

Routes to identification

The school recognises the importance of early identification of any learning needs, and the risk of learning difficulties and the possible consequences such as loss of self-esteem and frustration in learning. Early identification is a whole school responsibility.

Identifying Needs

The school uses a number of approaches to identify the 4 areas of SEND:

- Identification at admission: through communication with parents and any previous school. (See Admissions Policy.)
- Identification through parental concern or by pupils self referring.
- Identification through data tracking and screening.
- Identification through staff concern: class and subject teachers make regular assessments of progress for their students; and through the Pastoral Team.

Class and subject teachers are expected to listen to and address any concerns raised by parents and students. The first response should be to adopt the graduated approach as detailed below, moving to involvement with the SENDCo if difficulties persist.

Where a student is identified as needing SEND support, parents will be notified.

Provision

Oxford High School works on the principle that high quality teaching is an expectation for all students, including those with SEND and this will ensure that the majority will be engaged in their learning and achieve their potential. All our teachers are responsible for planning and delivering high quality teaching to all of their pupils.

The school provides regular staff training to ensure teachers and support staff have the knowledge and skills to work effectively with students with SEND. The SENDCo and Academic Support Teachers are regularly available to provide advice. Information/guidance about types of special needs and practical advice on teaching strategies can be found on OHS Information; in the shared drive and in the Senior School staffroom SEND library; as well as in the SEND Handbook; and Tips for Teachers booklet.

The first level of support for students experiencing difficulties takes a graduated approach in the form of a four-part cycle in which the class or subject teacher assesses the student's needs drawing on a range of evidence, plans appropriate differentiation or interventions, puts these into practice and reviews the outcome.

If a student continues to fail to make the expected progress, the SENDCo will be involved in the decision to assess the student. The outcomes of an assessment will dictate the nature of further support. The SENDCo will determine a personalised programme for the individual student, which may involve:

- Creation of Student Pupil Profile/All About Me Profile - to be circulated to relevant staff
- Access to specific resources – equipment, software programmes etc.
- Additional specialist teaching such as support in small groups or one-to-one teaching.
- Pastoral support
- Referral to external specialists/outside agencies

Provision will be made in consultation with the student and parents, and progress will be reviewed regularly in order to inform future support.

No charges are made by the school for any reasonable adjustments.

Public Examinations and Access Arrangements

- Please see the School's Access Arrangements Policy
- Students requiring the use of a word processor in public examinations must demonstrate that this is their normal way of working within the centre and use of a word processor must be appropriate to the candidate's needs. Please refer to Oxford High School's Word Processing Policy for details.

Provision for students with EHC Plans/Statements

Provision for students with EHC Plans will be made with due regard to the SEN Code of Practice 2014 (updated 2020). The school will co-operate with the LA and parents to work towards the provision set out in the EHC Plan, and to review the plan as required.

In accordance with the Equality Act 2010, the school will make reasonable adjustments (without charge) to its provision to ensure that students with disabilities are not put at a substantial disadvantage to their peers. The nature of these adjustments will be determined in consultation with the child and parents.

Record keeping

The SENDCo maintains registers of students identified as having SEND, or IDD (identified difficulties, but not diagnosed). Students raised as a possible concern are logged on monitoring list. These lists are regularly updated and available to staff through briefing and the circulation of information. Records are kept on all students on the SEND registers, and updated regularly.

Relevant information is made available to staff via CPOMS, SIMS and securely linked documents. Confidential records are stored digitally and securely in accordance with data protection regulations.

Where the pupil's needs cannot be adequately met with in-house expertise, staff will consider involving an external specialist as soon as possible.

8. Expertise and training of staff

Training will regularly be provided to teaching and support staff. The headteacher and the SENCO will continuously monitor to identify any staff who have specific training needs and will incorporate this into the school's plan for continuous professional development.

9. Links with external professional agencies

When appropriate, the school will work with external support services such as:

- Educational psychologists
- Occupational therapists, speech and language therapists or physiotherapists
- Child and adolescent mental health services (CAMHS)
- Education welfare officers
- Social services
- Oxford Attendance Team
- LCSS

10. Admission and accessibility arrangements

Equal Opportunities

The GDST is committed to equal opportunities in education and will not unlawfully discriminate against, or treat less favourably, any student at, or applicant to, its schools on the grounds of race, disability, sexual orientation, religion or belief (or lack thereof), gender reassignment, sexual orientation, or pregnancy or maternity ('protected characteristics'). The Trust will also not discriminate against, or treat less favourably, any student at, or applicant to, its schools because they are perceived to have one of the protected characteristics or are associated with someone who has a protected characteristic.

The school's admissions policy is available on the school website.

Oxford High School is an academically selective school, and admission is dependent upon reaching the required academic standard. Prospective students with SEND will be admitted on the same basis, unless the school cannot reasonably make the adjustments required to cater for their needs.

Parents of children with SEND applying for a place at the school are invited to discuss the child's needs with the SENDCo at an early stage, and the school may also contact the child's current school to gain further information. Every effort is made to accommodate a student's needs where possible, including in arrangements for entrance tests.

In accordance with the Equality Act 2010, the school will make reasonable adjustments (without charge) to its provision to ensure that students with disabilities are not put at a substantial disadvantage to their peers. The nature of these adjustments will be determined in consultation with the child and parents.

Students with an EHCP

The school can be named by the Local Authority (LA) in an EHC Plan with the school's agreement. Whether the school is named or not, a place will only be offered by the school once it is established that the school can support the provision specified on the EHCP.

11. Complaints about SEND Provision

Where parents have concerns about our school's SEND provision, they should first raise their concerns informally with the Deputy Head (Academic). We will try to resolve the complaint informally in the first instance. If this does not resolve their concerns, parents are welcome to submit their complaint formally.

Information about how to make a formal complaint can be found on the website.

If the parent or carer is not satisfied with the school's response, they can escalate the complaint. In some circumstances, this right also applies to the pupil themselves.

To see a full explanation of suitable avenues for complaint, see pages 246 and 247 of the SEN Code of Practice.

12. Monitoring and evaluation arrangements

We are constantly looking for ways to improve our SEND policy. We will do this by evaluating how effective our SEND provision is with regards to:

- Staff awareness of pupils with SEND
- Pupils' progress and attainment once they have been identified as having SEND
- Whether pupils with SEND feel safe, valued and included in the school community
- Comments and feedback from pupils and parents

This policy will be reviewed by the SENDCo every year. It will also be updated when any new legislation, requirements or changes in procedure occur during the year.

It will be approved by the full governing board.
